

Trainers required for Ireland and Northern Ireland

ISRM NATIONAL POOL PLANT OPERATORS CERTIFICATE

The Institute of Sport and Recreation Management (ISRM) is the leading national professional body for sport and recreation management and development in the UK.

Over 3500 sport and recreation staff successfully complete an ISRM pool or spa operations course every year. These definitive technical qualifications are used by more local authorities and private leisure operators in the UK than those offered by any other training provider. Our qualifications are also now delivered in Europe, the Gulf, Asia and Hong Kong.

Only ISRM Licensed Trainers are permitted to deliver ISRM training such as pool and spa operation courses, including our premier qualification, the ISRM National Pool Plant Operators Certificate.

The first step to becoming a licensed trainer is successful completion of a Trainer Assessment Day. In response to industry demand, a Trainer Assessment Day will be held in Ireland (most likely in Dublin) in January 2006 (date TBC), with the possibility of a second course in Belfast, depending on the level of interest from Northern Ireland.

To learn more about the ISRM trainer assessment process, visit www.isrm.co.uk/trainer/index.htm

If you would like to attend one of these days in January 2006, please express your interest to Ian Wakefield, Business Development Manager (contact info below), by 1 December 2005.
